

ALL IS READY FOR BIG REGATTA

lates this rule at risk to his shell and to his person.

The government revenue cutter, Apache, has been ordered to patrol and look after the course in general. No craft of any kind will be allowed on the course during the races. The government has absolute charge of all regattas, and, by disobeying this rule, the person not only makes himself a nuisance, but is liable to arrest. Last year at the Yale-Harvard boat race on the Thames, J. Pierpont Morgan broke this rule and was ordered to tie up his yacht at the wharf until given further notice. Needless to say he obeyed.

Course an Ideal One.

The course picked out for the regatta is considered by many to be one of the best of its kind in North America. The scene of the regatta has many notable features, chief among which is the splendid park, where the regatta may be witnessed from the shore. At the regatta last year, the onlookers' view was obstructed by many launches and sail boats which anchored at the finish line, but this year the course will be free from all these nuisances and the crowd will have a fine view of both the start and the finish. The most advantageous points for witnessing the regatta will be the Highway Bridge and the Potomac Drive-way. There need be no fear that you will not be able to view the races, for, between the park and the bridge, fully 10,000 persons can be accommodated, with plenty of room to spare. The races will start across from the government wharf on the opposite side of the river, crossing the channel, finishing 200 feet west of the Highway Bridge. Two-thirds of the race will be run 100 feet from the seawall, and the spectators will be able to obtain a fine view of the men in action. The above photograph shows the full course as seen from the Highway Bridge. Those on the bridge will see the finish of the races, which are sure to be close and well contested.

The only craft allowed on the course will be the press, the patrol, and the judges' boats. In case of rough water on the present course on the day of the regatta, the committee in charge will have the upper course in readiness. This course is really the smoother of the two, as it is sheltered from the strong south-easterly winds by Annapolis Island. But the committee is using the lower course in view of the fact that the spectators will be better able to see the races. The upper course is an ideal one, as far as racing is concerned, but the difficulty of witnessing the events was taken into consideration by the officers in charge, with the result mentioned above. The Marine Corps has made an official survey of both courses.

Kaufman Displays Prices.

At the store of D. J. Kaufman, 1005-1007 Pennsylvania avenue, the medals, banners, and cups which are to be given as prizes in the regatta are on display. There are nine cups, the aggregate value of which is said to be $4,000, while the medals are considered to be superior to any ever given away at a fête of this nature.

The individual medals are valued at $25 each. The banners are also worth $25 apiece. These trophies will be delivered to the winners at the conclusion of the regatta. A bond of $250 is required on every challenge cup won in these races.

The entries so far handed in to Secretary Fred R. Fortmeyer, of the National Association of Amateur Oarsmen, have exceeded all expectations. For the quarter-mile dash, the Nassau, Sheephead Bay, Riverside, and the Harlem Boat clubs have sent in their entries; for the intermediate single sculls, the Vesper, Riverside, West Linn, Ariel, and Potomac Boat clubs are entered; for the association single sculls, the New York Athletic, Riverside, Sheephead Bay, St. Johns, of New Orleans, New Rochelle, Vesper, and the Harlem Boat clubs have entered; for the champion single sculls, Nassau, New York Athletic, and the Harlem Boat clubs have entered; for the intermediate double sculls, the Springfield, Nassau, Rockville, of Baltimore, are entered; for the senior double sculls, the Vesper, Ariel, and the Harlem Boat clubs are down; for the quadruple sculls, the only entry so far is the Nassau Boat Club, of New York City; for the intermediate four shells, the Crescent of Philadelphia, Ariel, St. Charles, of Boston, and the Pennsylvania Barge Club are entered; for the local Potomac crew are entered; for the international four-oared shells, the Minnesota, New York Athletic, Vesper, Arundel, and Potomac Boat clubs are entered; for the intermediate eight-oared shells, the Arundel, Crescent, Virginia, of Richmond, and the Potomac Boat Club are entered; and for the senior eight-oared shells, the New York Athletic, Vesper, and the Potomac Boat clubs are entered.

More Entries Expected.

The above list does not include the entries received from the Detroit Boat Club, who have decided to enter their senior and junior eight, the Ottawa Boat Club, who are going to send their senior four and eight, and the Winnipeg senior four, certain to enter their crew early after the close of the Canadian Henley, which ended yesterday at St. Catharines, Canada.

One of the feature events of the regatta will be the junior eight championship, in which, among the fast crews who have entered, the local Potomac wielders of the blade will be serious contenders. This race was not on the regular programme, but has been lately added. The Mount City Rowing Club, not to be outdone by the Central Rowing Club, of St. Louis, who are going to send Joe Lepping, their single shell artist, will enter their own crack four, which will take part in the senior and international events. Coach James Way picked this crew from the victorious eight-oared barge outfit. The following oarsmen will make up the crew: Spaulding, how; Jordan, No. 2; Schluter, No. 3, and Grimm, stroke. Auman and Spradling will act as substitutes.

Claude R. Zappone, treasurer of the National Association of Amateur Oarsmen, who is now at the Canadian Henley, reported to some of his friends that all of the winners in the regatta there could be counted on to turn in their entries for the national regatta here. O'Neill and Cosgrave, two of the best scullers on this side of the water, have quit rowing, and so will not be seen on the Potomac. No reason was given, nor could one be learned.

The crack Detroit Boat Club, which has the honor of possessing the only English made, detachable shell in North America, will be here good and strong for the regatta. They are expected to arrive in the District some time within the next few days. This crew, the coaches claim, is the fastest eight in America and Canada. Now it remains to be seen if they can prove the opinion of their followers in the Canadian Henley. If they do, then keep your eyes open when they line up against our own Potomac eight, which is rowing at a mighty clip and is out to win the senior honors.

Glendon is Optimistic.

Our own crews are going as good as could be wished for, according to Dick Glendon, and it will not be surprising in the least to see them land a few laurels Friday. It must be remembered that the Potomacs ran away with the junior and the senior eight-oared events in the local regatta last fall, and are in a fair way to "come back." The one sure bet is that when the regatta comes to a close it will be regarded by all as one of the most successful ever held on the Potomac course.

Rules to Govern Races.

Laws of boat racing of the National Association of Amateur Oarsmen, adopted August 8, 1902, amended April, 1908.

STARTING.

1. All boat races shall be started in the following manner: The starter, on being satisfied that the competitors are ready, shall give the signal to start.

2. If the starter considers the start false he shall at once recall the boats to their stations, and any boat failing to start again shall be disqualified.

3. Any boat not at its post at the time specified shall be liable to be disqualified by the umpire.

4. The umpire may act as starter if he thinks fit, where he does and so act the starter shall be subject to the control of the umpire.

5. Boats shall be started by their sterns and shall have completed their course when the bows reach the finish.

WATER.

6. A boat's own water, its straight course parallel with those of the other competing boats from the station assigned to it at the start to the finish.

7. Each boat shall keep its own water throughout the race, and any boat departing from its own water will do so at its peril.

8. The umpire shall be sole judge of a boat's own water and proper course during the race.

9. It shall be considered a foul when, after the race has commenced, any competitor by his oar, boat, or person comes in contact with the oar, boat, or person of another competitor, unless, in the opinion of the umpire, such contact is so slight as not to influence the race.

10. No fouling whatever shall be allowed; the boat committing the foul shall be disqualified.

11. The umpire may, during a race, caution any competitor when in danger of committing a foul.

12. The umpire shall decide all questions as to a foul.

13. A claim of foul must be made to the umpire by the competitor himself, and, if possible, before the race is over. If a claim is made after the race, it shall be considered a claim of foul, and the boat claiming the foul shall be disqualified. In case of a foul, the umpire shall have the power: (a) To place the boats (excepting the boat committing the foul, which is disqualified) in the order in which they came in; (b) To order the boats engaged in the race, other than the boat committing the foul, to start the race over, if, in his opinion, such interference materially affected the chances of winning the race.

ACCIDENTS.

14. Every boat shall abide by its accidents, except when during a race a boat while in its own water shall be interfered with by an outside boat, the umpire may order the race to be restarted, and his decision in all cases shall be final and without appeal.

ASSISTANCE.

15. No boat shall be allowed to accompany a competitor for the purpose of directing its course or assisting him in any way. Any boat so directed or assisted shall be disqualified at the discretion of the umpire.

16. The umpire of the umpire extends over the race and all matters connected with it from the time the race is started until its final termination, and his decision in all cases shall be final and without appeal.

17. The judge at the finish shall report to the umpire the order in which the competing boats cross the line, but the decision of the race shall rest with and be declared by the umpire.

18. Any competitor refusing to abide by the decision of the umpire or the decision of the umpire shall be disqualified.

19. The umpire, if he thinks proper, may reserve his decision pending the decision of the umpire.

20. Contestants rowing a dead heat shall compete again after a short interval, as may be decided by the umpire, and the contestant refusing to row shall be adjudged to have lost the race.

LAUREL TAKES GOOD GAME.

Savage Stars Defeated the Timanians.

Special to The Washington Herald.

Laurel, Md., Aug. 6.—Three games of ball and an all-day picnic was held at Savage, Howard County, to-day, which drew large crowds from the surrounding counties. The first ball game began at 10 a. m. between the Savage Stars and the Bowie club, of Bowie Md., the former winning 11 to 4. The second game began at 2 p. m. between the Laurel club and the Bowie team, the Laurels white-washing Bowie, 15 to 0. The winner of the morning game, Savage, and the first afternoon game, Laurel, battled for a purse at 4 o'clock, the Laurel team winning 7 to 4, in a fast and interesting contest. Engle was on the firing line for the Midway team and Koonitz for the Savage club. Both pitchers were hit freely by the heavy hitters on both clubs, Berger leading with three hits out of four times up, while Timanus, for Laurel, got three. The Laurel team played a fast game in the field, and not a man could steal second on Sullivan, who caught Engle. Souter pitched the first game for Laurel against Bowie, and had them completely at his mercy. Laurel carried nearly 20 doctors with them, and as these teams have been rivals for years, there was great enthusiasm after the game and on their return to Laurel to-night. Score:

Engle was on the firing line for the Midway team and Koonitz for the Savage club. The Laurel team played a fast game in the field, and not a man could steal second on Sullivan, who caught Engle. Souter pitched the first game for Laurel against Bowie, and had them completely at his mercy.
